Dear Parents,

We are writing to inform you of certain rights you have to ask about the qualifications of your child's teachers. In accordance with the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), which was signed into law on December 10, 2015, all schools receiving Title 1 funds must inform parents of their right to ask schools about the professional qualifications of their child's teachers and paraprofessionals. Valley View Middle School and Bayberry Elementary School receive Title 1 funding, and we are happy to share this information with you, upon request.

By way of background, ESSA replaces the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB) and is the latest reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA). In an effort to raise student achievement, NCLB included a Highly Qualified Teacher (HQT) provision. Though this provision was eliminated by ESSA, all educators in New Jersey still are required to hold the appropriate state certificate for their assigned position.

We are extremely proud of the quality of our teaching staff. In addition to all teachers having college degrees, many hold advanced degrees. To promote the highest levels of teaching and learning in our schools, all teachers continue their learning through professional development activities and are evaluated pursuant to state guidelines each year.

We encourage you to communicate with your child's teachers on a regular basis. For more information on ESSA and the role of parents, please visit the United States Department of Education's (USDE) website at <http://www.ed.gov/essa>.

Please let us know if you have any questions. Our partnership is key to providing your child with the best possible education.

Very truly yours,
