

HARD AT WORK THIS SUMMER IN WATCHUNG

Left: The school year may be over, but Watching teachers are hard at work reflecting on their "Learner-Active" classrooms during a six-day workshop on LATIC (Learner Active Technology Infused Classrooms), which create data-based, student-driven environments key to continued student achievement. From left are physical education teacher John Primeau, special education teacher Caitlin Basile and third grade teacher Michele Klier. Right: Social studies teacher Chris Mehl, left, and is joined by science teacher Kristina Franko during the workshop.